PAUL BOYCE ENTERTAINMENT

Stated below are some various ways to organise and fund your Race Night.

Should you wish to include a fish and chip supper etc., I would suggest that you sell tickets for the evening well in advance, work out your costs i.e. the cost of the venue, food and the cost of hiring myself then come to a figure of somewhere between £5.00 and £7.00 be careful when pricing your evening, you do not want to put people off coming! Don't forget that they have got to place their bets yet.....

Included in the price is my own race card but should you wish to have your own race card printed up them please feel free to do so. WHY SHOULD WE WANT TO PRINT OUR OWN RACE CARD I HEAR YOU SAY.

Well firstly, to raise more funds you can obtain a sponsor for every race i.e. Sainsbury's, Tesco's, or some local firms. The cost of sponsoring a race is normally £15.00 but that's up to you.

£15.00 per race, eight races at £15.00 = £120.00

For this the sponsor does not receive a prize but does get a mention on the night.

Secondly, if you wish you can sell every horse in every race except race 8, race 8 is an auction race where I will auction every horse to the highest bidder, so sell all the horses in races 1 – 7 at £2.00 to £3.00 each horse, 8 horses 7 races = £112.00 if each horse is sold at £2.00. The incentive for owning a horse is that should your horse win you win a bottle of wine etc. You take £16.00 per race out the cost of the wine say £3.00 approx. you make £13.00 profit per race!

Thirdly you will be taking money on the tote all evening usually the tote opens at 50p per bet and you can place as many bets as you like.

Or finally you can charge people on the door lets say £3.00 each and let them bring their own food that's if you want to have food on the evening, its all up to you.

The above are only guide lines please feel free to run the event as you wish, but I would like to say do try to sell tickets before the event so that you are on the winning side, if some people let you down on the night by not turning up, they will have still have paid for their ticket and you will not be out of pocket.

I hope that the above proves useful.

Kind Regards

Paul Boyce

DISCO/RACE NIGHTS

This leaflet has been designed to assist you in the smooth running of your toe. Please read it and take note.

TICKET SALES

1. Select either 20p or 50p sale price for each ticket
2. You will need a float of £50.00 made up of 10p, 20p, and 50p coins
3. If you get 5p coins or coppers taken them out of circulation ASAP. They will only confuse and take up time.
4. In the 1st column (A) of the Tabulator Form, write in the next number of each book of Tote Tickets.
5. Decide what percentage should be set aside from each race, takings to go towards the event's profits. We suggest that you take about 40%.

WHEN THE TOTE IS CLOSED

1. In the 2nd column (B) of the Tabulator Form, write in the next number to be sold in each book of Tote Tickets.
2. Deduct the starting number (A) from the final number (B) in each book of Tote Tickets and this will determine the total number of tickets that have been sold for each horse.
3. Multiply the total tickets sold for each horse by ticket unit cost, add the 8 (or 10) totals together this should correspond to the total cash you received.
4. Withdraw the agreed percentage from the total and put to one side. The remainder is the sum that is available for paying out to winning ticket holders.

WHEN THE RACE IS FINISHED

1. Divide the amount available for payout by the number of tickets sold for the winning number.
2. Amend the amount to a sum that is easy to pay out to all winners. Reduce the sum to the nearest 10p.

IT IS NOT AS DIFFICULT AS IT SOUNDS!

See the diagram below for further clarification:-

PAYOUT TABULATOR FORM Sample % for funds 40%

Number 4 = £5.70 (pay £5.70)	Number 8 = £3.61 (pay £3.60)

HINTS FOR YOUR MC OR COMPERE

1. The best way to introduce the evening is by dimming the lights and show the introductory film. When it begins everyone starts to pay attention, and as a bonus, it explains how the race is run.
2. After the film has finished you will have everyone's attention, and then you can welcome them to the race night.
3. Start to explain the rules of the Race Time to them.
 - (a) 8 horses in each race
 - (b) You will see from the race card that the horses have names, but for betting purposes, we sell the tickets by number only.
 - (c) We are operating a Tote System. A small (telling fibs) % of the tote ticket sales are deducted for the funds, and the remainder is returned to your lucky winning punters.
 - (d) We are betting tonight in the units of e.g. if 20p units you can have 20p 40p, 80p, £1.00 £2.00, £5.00 and so on, this always produces a laugh.
 - (e) The films are sealed. When the tote is closed we will get a volunteer to select the film, and check that it is sealed. That film will be then be put directly into the video/projector.
 - (f) Our ticket sellers/bookmakers are over in the corner ready to take your bets.
4. KEEP THE RACE NIGHT MOVING ALONG. Do not leave much time between races, or the evening starts to drag. Announce '2 minutes to the off' any more vets, they're at the start. The Tote is about to close..... the tote is now closed.
5. AFTER THE TOTE IS CLOSED get someone from the audience to select a film. Break the seal in front of them, and then hand it to the operator.
6. AFTER THE RACE announce the winner. 'The winner of race 2 is horse 5, Not Tonight Josephine by Kicked out of Bed, owned by Jim Smith and the tote payout is £1.00 to each winning ticket'.

The tote is now open for Race 3. etc.,

7. KEEP YOUR ANNOUNCEMENTS BRIEF and if possible humorous. A Stewards Enquiry often gets a good laugh. 'Should the number 5 be disqualified' 'Who should get the race' Objection over ruled'.
8. AT THE END OF THE EVENING don't forget to thank your Ticket Sellers, Cashiers, compare and others.

IMPORTANT MESSAGE

DO NOT SHOW THE INTRODUCTION TO THE HORSES AND THEN STOP THE FILM TO PERMIT THE SALE OF THE TOTE TICKETS

1. IT MAKES YOUR RACE NIGHT ILLEGAL as the race is no longer a lottery under the legal definition of the word. Once the punters have ANY KNOWLEDGE of the horses before buying their tickets, the race becomes a game of SKILL instead of a game of CHANCE and you are breaking the law.
2. Stopping the video/projector halfway through the film can and will cause sprocket damage. The film can easily tear and you will then have great difficulty continuing with the race. It could also easily jam the projector and ruin the whole night.
3. Punters have been know to fiddle at the race nights, where the form guide has been shown in advance of selling tote tickets. It may e that someone has taken a note of the film number at either previous race nights, or a Holiday Camp perhaps where our races are shown daily. They would then know the winner in advance.

Have a Great Night
